

A LETTER FROM THE NORTH POLE

Dear _____,

Guess who's here! My name is _____, and Santa has sent me all the way from the North Pole to spend December with you.

Every night, while you're fast asleep, I'll fly back to tell Santa about the kind, funny and wonderful things I've seen. Then I'll zoom home before you wake up and find a new spot to sit. See if you can find me each morning!

There is one very important rule: please don't touch me. Elf magic is delicate, and I need every sparkle of it to make the trip.

I can't wait to share Christmas with you.

With love and jingle bells,
